Letter to the Contestant

The Grey Eagle. | September 4th, 2022

Dear Contestant,

Thank you for your interest in the Blue Ridge Pride Pageant. This outlet of pageantry is focused on gender identity and expression through the art of drag. After many hard years of challenges, both mentally and socially, I am happy to be helping with this pageant this year. As a new director to Blue Ridge Pride, I hope I can help expand this pageant into the community and help the winner be the best leader of the community as possible. Using my knowledge of pageantry and being a member of drag and the community for 15 years, I hope to help strengthen the symbol of excellence that is the Blue Ridge Pride Pageant. With recovery of the economics still a thing of the present, I, as well as the board, hope to find someone who has leadership skills to build the Blue Ridge Pride Pageant into a stronger tomorrow. As stated from the previous Pageant Director and Former, Ida Carolina, "Our titleholders have been community servants, political activists, queer artists, inspirational speakers, role models for hard work, lovers, fighters, and so much more." With this in mind, we want to express how excited we are to be bringing this pageant back this year and hope it grows stronger with the next leader. Just like the former promoter said, "As the pageant director I want to help the titleholder shape their reign to their unique gifts and abilities. We are excited to continue a competition where drag excellence isn't confined to a certain style or genre of artistic gender expression." The focus of Blue Ridge Pride Pageant is to find someone who truly expresses oneself in a strong statement with passion, focus, and artistry. Win or Lose, making a powerful statement with cleanliness is the key and taking those critiques from other community leaders on how to better oneself to be a better leader of tomorrow. We thank you for your commitment to the pageant and community and wish all contestants well. Please feel free to reach out with any questions or concerns.
